Kill Me Now

Directed and Designed by John Sowle

with

Kay Capasso, Samuel Hoeksema,
Molly Parker-Myers,
Steven Patterson*, and JD Scalzo

Widower Jake Sturdy works hard to take care of his severely disabled son Joey with occasional help from his younger sister Twyla and Joey's best friend Rowdy. A clandestine affair with Robyn, a married woman, is the only respite from the pressures of his life. But when Jake himself is stricken with a crippling condition they are all forced to face some very hard questions about pain, mortality, and the true price of love. Kill Me Now is a funny, shattering, and heartbreaking story about caring for and ultimately saying goodbye to those we love.

Warning: This performance contains nudity and adult situations and is recommended for mature audiences. Bring Kleenex.
